Free All for stubborn parts

Corroded fasteners can really slow progress on your project car; classic or muscle car. Federal Process Corporation has announced the release of its new rust-eating penetrant, Free All Deep Penetrating Oil.

Free All features a patented, silicone-free formula that dissolves rust and corrosion and won't damage paint.

Free All is available in 6- and 12-ounce spray cans, as well as half-ounce single-use bottles online or at select auto parts stores.

The 12-ounce spray can retails for $5.99.
